

Are you an autistic person who has gone through non-surgical menopause?

Please consider sharing your experiences with us to help us improve services and support

A postgraduate student at the University of Edinburgh, in collaboration with Scottish Autism, is conducting research on how autistic people experience menopause, what support they receive, and how support can be improved.

Taking part will involve:

- An online questionnaire (15-30 minutes)
- An online interview or further questions via email (optional)

Click the following link to find out more and to complete the questionnaire:

https://edinburgh.eu.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_eY7CpZq5uXETDZY

Or contact the researcher, Eimear McCabe:
e.c.mccabe@sms.ed.ac.uk